Profile

A hardworking, determined, and quick learner. I have a passion for software development and excel in a fast paced environment. I was born and raised in San Diego, California and have remained here for most of my life. I have a background in software development, insurance, the food industry, as well as banking. I love to learn and create things that help others.

PROJECTS

San Diego JavaScript Website

I volunteered to help build the San Diego Javascript Speaker Pipeline. It is an application that streamlines the process for guest speakers in the local Javascript community to submit a request to speak at an event. It also dynamically organizes all speakers for the event administrators.

I used React, Redux, MongoDB, Loopback, Express, Node.JS, HTML, and CSS on this project.

SPACEBOX

Spacebox is application that allows users to create a music playlist using the Spotify API and invite other users to listen and add songs to the playlist.

I used React, Redux, MongoDB, Loopback, Express, Node.JS, HTML, and CSS on this project.
